

TARIFF BILL IS PASSED BY SENATE TODAY

La Follette And Six Other Republicans Voted Against It On Final Passage.

ADJOURNMENT WILL COME TONIGHT

Leather Schedules Will Be Taken Up This Afternoon, But No Trouble Is Anticipated By Either Cannon Or Foraker.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—At 2:10 p. m. today the senate adopted the conference report on the tariff bill which effects the final passage of that bill through congress.

The vote stood: Ayes, 47; noes, 31. The bill received all the republican votes except those of Helwig, Clapp, Cummings, Dilliver, La Follette, Beveridge and Nelson.

The senate then took up the concurrent resolution reducing the rates in the leather schedule.

The senate adopted the concurrent resolution reducing the leather schedule rates.

It is now expected that congress will probably adjourn this afternoon. Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon met this afternoon to discuss ways for the passage of a concurrent resolution relating to the hide and leather schedules.

They reported that there were no apparent obstacles in the way against adjournment today.

The conference report on the urgent deficiency appropriation bill was agreed to by the senate today. The house has already agreed to the report.

Senator Dilliver was the first speaker in the tariff debate today, opening his remarks with a defense of his course as a republican in concurring for lower customs duties.

Dilliver denied the right of other republican senators to question his position in the senate, a position which he said was dictated by his conscience.

The senate, without division, adopted Senator McCumber's drawback resolution with the provision for free cotton bagging added.

The house adopted the leather resolution.

President Taft today sent to the senate the nomination of A. Platt Andrews of Massachusetts to be director of the mint.

Secretary MacVough announced today the failure of the designer of the new Lincoln pennies to be removed. Some of the pennies issued will be recalled and new dies without the initials will be prepared soon.

CURTISS SAILS FOR AEROPLANE CONTEST

New York Aviator Goes to French Trials—German Flying Machine Delayed.

Minneapolis, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Glenn H. Curtiss, who was to have made a flight in his aeroplane here this morning, abandoned the effort because he said the wind was too high. Zepplin Is Delayed.

Cologne, Aug. 5.—The Zepplin airship arrived here from Frankfurt, 100 miles distant, this morning, two hours and a quarter later than the time set for its arrival. The vessel was delayed by unfavorable weather conditions.

NO PROSECUTIONS OF GAME WARDENS

Attorney General Has No Complaint Filed in His Office.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Aug. 5.—Because the senatorial investigating committee failed to certify to the attorney general the testimony of certain game wardens and others, there is little likelihood of any action being started by that official to recover money that may be due the state. Although Attorney General Gilbert cannot help but know what has been recovered of a criminal nature by the investigation, and the records of the probe are available to any one, he has not been "officially" informed of the facts.

Following the testimony of certain game wardens that they had padded their expense accounts or had accepted salary for time spent in political work, the committee decided that their testimony should be certified to the governor and to the attorney general for such action as they might determine upon. The committee also decided to certify the testimony of Game Warden Stone, that he had spent $2,500 of Stephenson money in behalf of the latter's candidacy for United States senator at the primaries, and that he had collected $1,200 for Gov. Davidson's campaign fund.

The latter testimony was certified to the state officers in due form, but the statements of the game wardens were not. The game wardens whose names were contained in the certification might not so far as their testimony was concerned—be open to any charge other than perjury, and it is the duty of district attorneys, not the attorney general, to start perjury cases.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF OIL COMPANY

IS ANNIVERSARY OF DRILLING OF FIRST OIL WELL.

EDWIN L. DRAKE FOUNDER

Of Industry, Which Has Grown from Small Start to Enormous Proportions, Involving Millions.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Mendville, Pa., Aug. 5.—The semi-centennial of the founding of the great oil industry of the United States by Edwin L. Drake, who drilled the first oil well near Titusville in 1859, was celebrated today by the oil men of this country, in connection with the annual picnic and outing of the Western Pennsylvania Pipe Line association at Conneaut Lake. Weeks ago the managers of the outing had sent invitations to hundreds of oil men throughout the country and a large number of them came to attend the celebration. Among them were many of the leading oil men of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois and Oklahoma, who had gained their first knowledge of the oil business in and around the Titusville oil basin.

Edwin L. Drake, although justly famous as the founder of the oil industry in this country, was not the discoverer of oil. From time immemorial the Indians had obtained oil for medicinal purposes from the valley of Oil Creek, near Titusville, where the oil in many places rose to the surface or oozed from the porous rock. Even before the time of the Indians, the mysterious mound-builders knew of the existence of oil and it is known that they dug deep wells to collect the oil, which they probably used for no other than medicinal purposes.

The early settlers of Pennsylvania found oil in many places in the Oil Creek valley and its vicinity and used crude and primitive methods to collect the oil from springs and wells, to sell it as "Haitum", put up in bottles and labeled "Haitum Oil," "Rock Oil," "American Oil," "Klar Petroleum," "Senece Oil," etc. The oil which was found only in small quantities was worth eighty cents a gallon where it was found and $1 a gallon in the east, where it was sold in drugstores.

In 1854 a lawyer from Maine, by the name of Ezeleth and a man named Bissell, who had been a school teacher in New Orleans, passed through the Oil Creek region on their way north. They became interested in the oil and took samples with them to New Haven. They submitted these samples to Professor Benjamin Silliman to test the oil for its value as a lubricant and for illuminating purposes, in place of sperm oil. The response which he submitted the following year was so favorable that Ezeleth and Bissell and several others formed, under the laws of New York, a joint-stock company, called "The Pennsylvania Rock Oil Company," which company purchased in fee simple all the land on Oil Creek, upon which there were any traces of oil. The company also leased for ninety-nine years all the lands which were supposed to contain oil.

In 1856 the company sublet the land to parties in New York who were to develop the property and pay a royalty of 12 cents a gallon for all the oil produced, to the company. During the hard times of 1857 the New York contractors became financially involved and unable to carry out the contract. Taking advantage of a slight flaw in the deed they surrendered the land to the Pennsylvania Rock Oil Company. James M. Townsend, one of the stockholders, who lived in New Haven, conceived the idea of examining the property, and it was found as reported, to assume the losses surrendered by the New York parties.

Mr. Townsend engaged Edwin L. Drake, formerly a conductor on the New York and New Haven railroad, who had been compelled to give up his position on account of bad health, to go to Pennsylvania to investigate the situation. Drake sent a favorable report and Townsend organized a new company, called "The Seneca Oil Company." Drake became the agent of the company with a salary of $1,200 a year and established himself on Oil Creek. The first crude attempts to gather the oil were not very successful, and at last, upon Drake's advice it was decided to bore for oil.

The work was begun in 1859 and progressed but slowly. After $50,000 had been expended on boring, without result, the company decided to abandon the work, but just then oil was struck and it rose in the bore hole to within five feet of the surface. It had to be pumped from the well and the supply seemed inexhaustible. The company was in a fair degree to become rich, when the works were destroyed by an explosion of gas in the well, which ignited the oil. In the meantime overproduction had caused the price of oil to fall to $1 a barrel and, discouraged, the Seneca company sold out. For two years nothing was done, but then the work was resumed, additional refineries were built and from that time on the oil industry made giant strides. How enormous has been its growth may be inferred from the fact that the production of crude petroleum in the United States in 1907 was nearly 1,186,000,000 gallons, representing a total value of $85,000,000.

CHANGE IS MADE AT STATE SCHOOL

HARVEY CLARK DISPLACED AS HEAD OF BLIND INSTITUTE.

IS RESULT OF COMPLAINTS

Students and Teachers United in Complaining the Manner in Which the School Had Been Conducted.

Harvey Clark, for the past few years head of the State Institute for the Blind, was yesterday displaced by the State Board of Control and Dr. J. P. Brown of Waupun named as his successor. The dropping of Mr. Clark as superintendent is the result of the numerous complaints which have been sent to the board during the past year and the presentations of the facts as they existed at the school, made to Governor Davidson and members of the legislature.

For some time past, since the new board of control was organized, it has been expected that Mr. Clark would be dropped and the action of the board yesterday was not a surprise to many who knew the nature of the complaints made and the manner in which they had been presented for consideration. Mr. Clark, who has been in charge of the school during his long term of office, has been named as the successor but has not been named though it will probably be Dr. Brown's wife.

Dr. J. P. Brown, who becomes superintendent of the school for the blind, has been physician at the state prison at Waupun for nearly seven years. He is a man of unusual executive ability and that fact, it is understood, contributed largely to his selection. His work at Waupun is highly recommended and he is greatly esteemed there by all his associates, as well as his family.

The trouble at the state school started in the winter over the refusal of Superintendent Clark to permit one of the pupils to go to her home for a family reunion during the school year and upon her going without permission, refusing to permit her to return. This caused a protest to be sent to the state board by the students.

A student committee was formed composed of Edward Kohlmann of Fond du Lac, Joseph Kimball of Stevens Point, Arvid Johnson, Walter Smiley of Mukwonago and Oscar Severson of New London to handle the matter. The spirit of dissatisfaction spread through the entire school and even the teachers took decided stands in the matter as opposed to the methods of the school. So insistent became the demands for an investigation that in May last the state board met and for three days took the testimony of the pupils and teachers.

This was the old board and their report on the matter of the charges against Mr. Clark did not do them justice and the teachers refused to return to the school if Mr. Clark continued as superintendent. The board of the pupils stated their desire to be withdrawn from the school if present conditions continued. During the legislature's last session the old board was legislated out of office and steps taken to appoint a new board.

Meanwhile numerous complaints relative to the Janesville school came to the governor and he was visited by many delegations of teachers and students, as well as citizens, who demanded that he have an inquiry held under his own direction of an unbiased board. The attending Mr. Clark and his family were told that it is thought well naming Dr. Brown to the school and no further inquiry will be made.

All other superintendents of institutions were reappointed, as follows: State hospital for insane at Mendota—Dr. Charles Gorat.

Northern hospital for insane at Oakdale—Dr. W. A. Gordon.

School for deaf at Mukwonago—E. W. Walker.

Industrial school for boys at Waubesa—A. J. Hutton.

BACON THIEF SENT TO COUNTY BASTILE

Pat O'Hern Pleaded Guilty to Charge of Appropriating Meat Belonging to Western Boarding Co.

On a complaint of L. L. Burman, representative of the Western Boarding & Supply Co., which is furnishing food and shelter for the workmen laying the new track on the C. & N. W. Evansville cut-off, Pat O'Hern and Charles Frederickson were placed under arrest by Officer Peter Champlin last evening, charged with breaking into a car and stealing 100 pounds of bacon. Evidence against the men on the charge of breaking and entering the car, however, was purely circumstantial and the charge preferred against O'Hern in municipal court this morning simply related to his having had the stolen property in his possession and having sold it to a woman living on Madison street for thirty cents. To this complaint he pleaded guilty, declaring that he found the meat lying on the ground outside the car and being intoxicated, helped himself to the property and disposed of it. On his plea the court imposed a fine and costs amounting to $13 with the alternative of 15 days in jail. O'Hern was unable to pay his fine and costs and went to the jail. There was no evidence against Frederickson and another individual who had been called by Mr. Burman and brought to court as the result of remarks he was alleged to have passed in a saloon, and both were allowed to go.

A Recipe for Good Looks

The first "ingredient" in the recipe for good looks is pretty teeth.

Given a fine, good looking set of teeth, no man or woman need have any fear that he or she will be called anything but good looking.

Next to the eyes, the teeth are most in evidence.

Every word that is uttered shows the teeth; every smile shows the teeth; every time one takes a mouthful of food the teeth are in evidence, be they good, bad, or a mixture of both.

We put the question directly up to you:

Do you want to make a good impression?

Then have your teeth cared for by the Dentist.

I believe I am fitted by experience, equipment and ability to do well by you.

Let me care for your mouth.

LAY UNCONSCIOUS ALL NIGHT UNDER A RAILROAD ARCH

Edward A. Yuengst Found Near Mole Farm This Morning with Broken Ribs and Injured Spine.

Edward A. Yuengst, a harness-maker employed at the Russell & Bellin plant and residing at 651 North Pearl street, is in a critical condition at the hospital as a result of a fall from the C. & N. W. railway culvert near the Mole farm and subsequent exposure and neglect. Boys going about the vicinity last evening saw a man lying under the archway but supposing him to be a drunk victim, sought to assist him after a debauch, made no report to the police until they found him still sleeping there this morning. Chief Appleby accompanied Russell's ambulance to the scene at nine o'clock.

Yuengst, though breathing regularly, remained in a comatose state despite all efforts to rouse him. There were bruises on his head but no cuts to show from whence had come a small pool of blood in the sand just below the arch. Dr. F. B. Parnsworth, who attended the man at the hospital, found that in falling he had struck on his back and that several ribs were broken; the spine injured; and one of the hips badly bruised. He could not hold out much hope for the patient's recovery.

Owing to the fact that the unfortunate man had been absent from work since Monday and had been seen in company with several other men and women up river, his nephew, Fred Yuengst, was at first inclined to believe that there had been a fight on the culvert and that his uncle had been victim of some sort of foul play. There was little, however, to support this conjecture or any supposition that he might have been struck by a locomotive.

It is said that Mr. Yuengst has never become reconciled to the loss of his wife, who passed away about three months ago. His father, who lives at Union, Ill., has been sent for and is expected to arrive here today. It was learned this afternoon after a careful examination of Yuengst was made that his jaw was broken and his back was also broken. Small hopes of his recovery are entertained. How he came to meet his fearful accident has not as yet been explained.

CONCRETE STONE CO. GETS THE CONTRACT

Underbid All Competitors for Sale of Coal to be Used at High School Building.

The Rock County Concrete Stone company put in the lowest bid for the contract for supplying the coal to be used at the high school this coming winter, underbidding their nearest competitor ninety cents per ton. The price they offered for egg lump Pocahontas coal was $5.50. The bids for Pocahontas egg per ton were as follows: Rock County Concrete Stone company, $5.50; H. Lehtfus, $6.05; Janesville Coal company and William Duggs, both bidding $6.10.

The bids on the various kinds of coal sent in by the coal dealers raised the question as to whether or not there is a combine among the coal dealers of the city to fix the prices of coal just to suit themselves. Facts might seem to indicate that this was true. The fact that the Concrete Stone company not only underbid the others on Pocahontas egg lump coal but on all others for which bids were submitted might be taken as an indication that the dealers had fixed it up between themselves, but that their combination was broken up by the independent company. The mine lump Pocahontas the stone company agreed to furnish at a rate of $1.05 below the price per ton as submitted by H. Lehtfus, who in all the bids is their nearest competitor. In hard coal there was not so much difference in the bids. One fact regarding Lehtfus is the lowest bidder of the three, the other two supposed to be in the combination, putting their prices but five cents higher for Pocahontas coal and fifteen cents higher for the anthracite. Last year mine lump Pocahontas was burned in the furnaces at the high school for which the price of $6.40 was paid. This year the stone company offered to furnish the same coal for five dollars per ton, a dollar and forty cents cheaper than was demanded in 1908. Another peculiar thing is that one year when hard coal was burned, when the bids were turned in the lowest was $8.45, the others following in an upward succession, one cent per ton apart. When the coal arrived it was brought not only by the wagons of the company which secured the job, but by wagons of other companies as well.

VURPILLAT'S NEW DISCOVERY VICTORIOUS.

Statements of Some of the Relieved Sufferers—Office at 509 W. Milwaukee St. Crowded.

Unable to Use His Arm on Coming to the Ground, Yet in Five Minutes Time Could Raise It Above His Head.

The large crowds that are attending the free lectures and entertainments given by Vurpillat, are increasing, and at the office, 509 W. Milwaukee St., testimonials from local people are beginning to come in. If any one should doubt the ability of this young man, as a demonstrator, a visit to his open-air lectures and entertainments will dispel all doubt.

He welcomes "the man from Milwaukee," he is always "willing to show him." This mass of energy called Vurpillat has created a mail order department also, and the sales of his remedies are the wonder of our city.

The name and fame of Vurpillat is heard everywhere—on the street corners, in the hotels and stores "Vurpillat" is the topic. From the laughing lips of youth and from the contented tongues of mature years comes everywhere that magic word—"Vurpillat."

The good work this gentleman's preparations has done in our city inspires all with confidence in him. All day long visitors come in streets to tell what the remedies have done for them in the quiet of their homes. Here is a sample of the expression of gratitude: "I heard of your medicine through a friend of mine, who is taking it and has been greatly benefited and I thought I would try some of it."

Among the number to be demonstrated upon last evening was Wm. Leuk, of 145 Eastern Ave., whose left arm hung at his side perfectly useless. He had been afflicted with paralysis for a number of years and in all that time had not been able to move his arm over his head a few inches. After a few minutes application of the New Discovery Mr. Leuk could raise his arm to his head, something he could not do before coming upon the platform.

A good program has been arranged for tonight and no doubt the usual large crowd will be in attendance.

The office at 509 W. Milwaukee St., is open from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., where consultation and examination are free to all.

DARING BURGLAR DONE FOR.

Cleptograph Takes His Picture While He Has Been Busy, Leaving Likeness for Police to Work On.

The day of the bilious burglar who parodied the old song with his: "He who burles and gets away May live to burgle another day," is gone and done for. The burglar no longer is safe simply because he happens to "make a clean getaway" after blowing open a safe and transferring the contents to his spacious pockets. He is in the same precarious position as any "wanted" criminal whose photograph is in the rogues' gallery. For while he has been burgling a camera has been clicking in the wall before him, and when he goes away he leaves behind a first class likeness for the police to use in tracing him to his doom.

The "cleptograph" is the name of the machine that does the trick. It is something new in protection against burglars. It does not send him with boiling water the moment he steps upon a board before a safe, nor electrocutes him. It simply is a camera concealed in the wall in such a way as to command the object which might attract the modern Bill Sykes, and which is so arranged that no one can enter the room without disturbing the system of electric wires by which its mechanism is put in operation. These wires, when disturbed, instantly cause the camera to turn and focus itself upon the point of disturbance. Another disturbance, and a flashlight explodes and the intruder's likeness is caught on a photographic plate just as neatly as if an operator were directing the camera's work. Upon discovery of the burglary the plate is taken out and developed, the photograph given to the police, by whom it is published in bulletins and sent broadcast over the country with the request to arrest and detain the picture's original, with an account of the crime for which he is wanted.

The device is the invention of an Italian whose efforts in putting the camera to novel and unheard of uses have met with remarkable success. Photographing wild game with a set camera and flashlight long has been common among outdoor photographers, and the cleptograph is only the same idea applied to the photographing of an enemy of society.

unpleasant labor, especially in bad weather. The signalman formerly was compelled to take a chilly position in order to send the commander's messages to a sister warship, but since the installation of the wireless system he may sit back in his cabin and communicate directly and in the greatest comfort.

John Bull and the other great captains of the navy have adopted the system.

High Voltage Don't Kill.

While in the power house of the North Georgia Electric Company, at Buford, Ga., recently, Capt. G. W. Buford, a member of the city council, received 50,000 volts of electricity and still lives. He came in contact with a wire carrying 50,000 volts accidentally touching it with his left arm, and the current passed through his body. It melted the balls out of his shoes and badly mutilated his face where he wore gold rimmed glasses. Capt. Buford was almost stripped naked by the current. The physicians do not understand how he escaped instant death.

Provided For.

Would Interest the Bishop.

While the bishop of Stepney was walking in London the other day a newsboy came along crying, "Winner, winner!" Then, seeing the clergyman, he at once altered his cry to "Dreadful fire at Jerusalem."

PROLIFIC.
"Ferrett, the private detective, has made a large fortune out of his business in the past two or three years," "He's unusually successful in his cases?"

"No; I don't know that he has, but he began awhile ago to charge so much per case, it was a happy thought of his."

NO TIME TO LOSE.

First Summer Girl—What! You don't mean to say you began engaged to that young man within three hours after being introduced?

Second Summer Girl—That's exactly what I said. I'm going to make a record this month and can't afford to devote any more time than that to one man.

SURE THING.

Jigsaw—My father is a doctor, and these automobiles have ruined his business.

Nigson—Why, I should think the accidents they cause would help him.

Jigsaw—No; he's a horse doctor.

Worthy Guardian of Flock.

The proverbial sagacity of the shepherd's dog is well known, and a striking example of this was seen in Custer the other day. A flock of sheep was being driven along the road, and in passing the village the shepherd entered one of the shops for a moment. In his absence a motor car came up, but in a twinkling the dog was forward and had the sheep cleared to the side of the road for the car to pass, the same as if his master had been there.—London Mail.

Not Slighted.

A minister's little daughter was visiting a family in a parish which her father had recently left. One day she explained to her hostess that he hoped the people of the church would not send for him to conduct funerals, but would have the present pastor of the church. Thinking perhaps she might have given offense she looked up with a bright smile and added: "But of course he would be very glad to attend your funeral!"—The De-linquent.

Alaskan Moonshine.

Up here in Alaska the moon rises in the south and sets in the north. Its beams are liquid and they enamel the landscape with a porcelain loveliness. It casts a spell more potent than ever did the magicians of the east. Under its wizardry the rocks turn to silver and the brown old mountains are conjured into giant pearls. True wealth exists in the mind, and whoever beholds an Alaskan moonlight is three hundred times a millionaire.—Ketchikan Miner.

Two Yesterday
Advertising Records

To prove that people are reading ads more and more every day, we make mention of two special advertisements in Tuesday's issue:

One was an advertisement of J. E. House offering a special on bananas, from which he sold over 200 dozen during the morning following, and could not get more from the wholesalers to supply his trade in the afternoon.

Another, that of J. F. Schooff, offering a special on spare-ribs, from which he sold out his entire stock before 10:00 a. m., and had a great many calls which he could not fill.

Men and women are finding that it really pays to read the advertisements. Many are intensely interesting; all are worthy of being read, and many will save you money.
